- Recap -

Two months after Audré caught Lambert trying to cheat, she dumped him and is now single. Her roommate Julia encourages her to give internet dating a shot.

Audré

Julia

Ed

Red Hat

Alix

Eww... FUGLY!!!

He doesn't look so bad. He seems to be conservative and quiet.

Julia: Lambert was conservative. Look how that turned out. Watch out for the quiet ones.

I think this guy is perfect for you!

Why do you say that?

Don't you know what they say? A guy with wide nose and thick neck has it going on!

Audré: Such nonsense Julia! Anyway, I don't need that so I'll pass.

I will set date #1
with this one and #2
with that one.

Nah missy. These two are the winners. Let's start with them.

How come you know so much about guys?

Simple. I make it my business to learn men's behavior and use it to my advantage .

Following Julia's advice, André sets up the dates.

Today, she meets the first one.

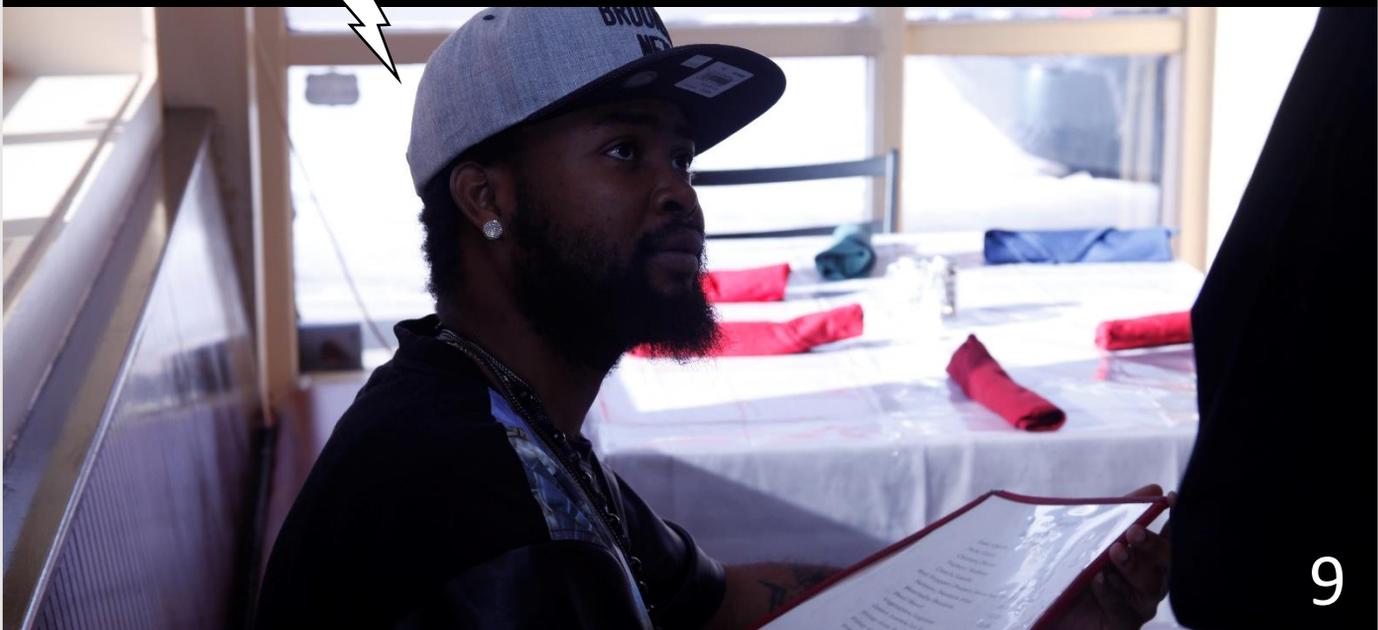

My name is Ed and I will be your server today. Are you guys ready to order?

I'll have the special of the day.

I'll have the same, please.

I was very impressed with your profile. What kind of business do you run?

I import and export stuff in and out of the city

What industry?

Pharmaceutical

Impressive! How is that going?

Its good money. The guys are unreliable at times.
Some just disappear or at times get into trouble.
But business is good.

What brings you to online dating?

oh you know, it's hard to find suitable people in real life nowadays. I'm looking for quality because I'm family oriented and strongly believe in commitment.

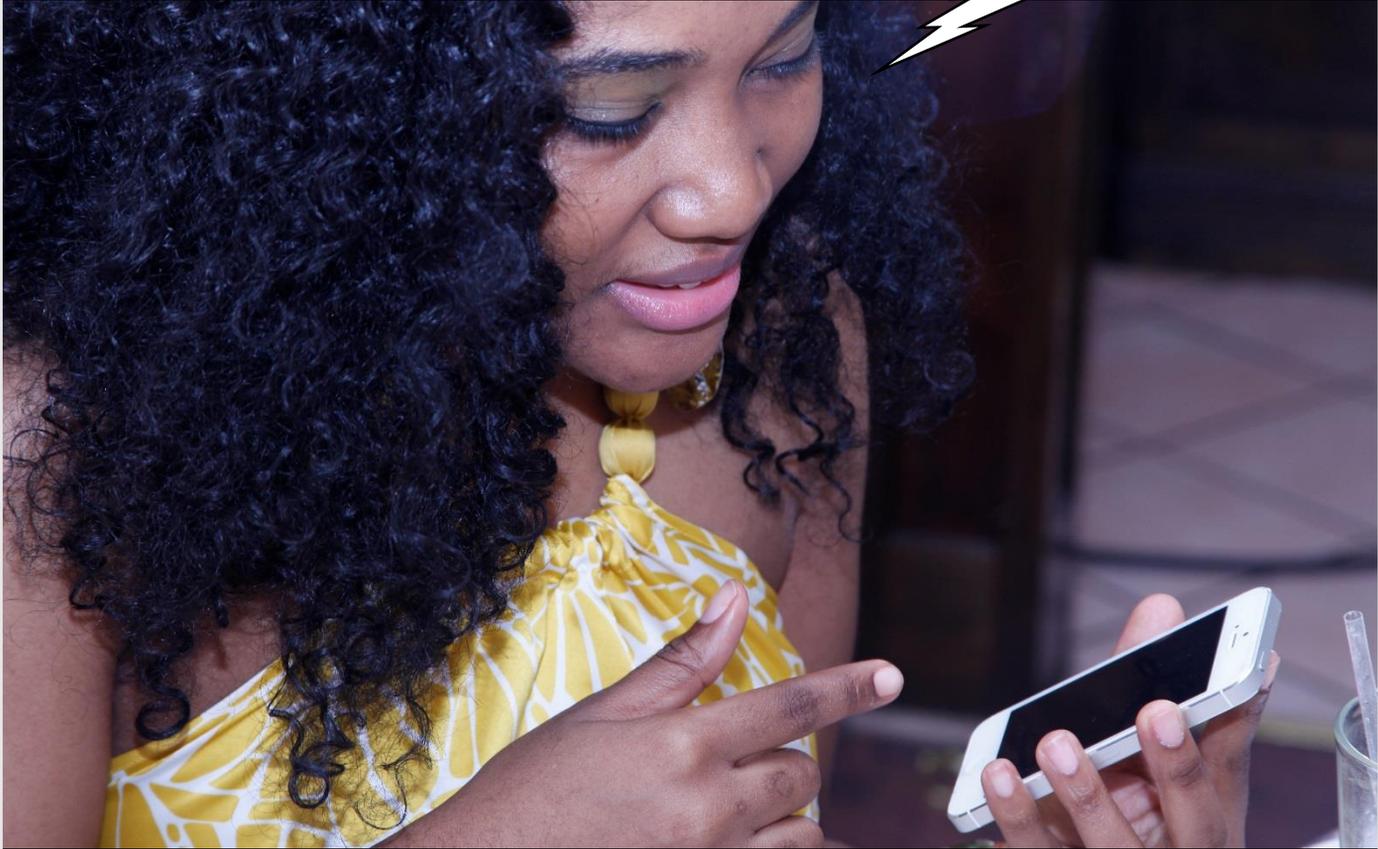

And you? Parents pressuring you to settle down?

Nothing like that. You and I are pretty much in the same boat...

After 15 minutes of great conversation, Auré decides to test him.

My phone battery died, I have to check in with my friend so she doesn't worry. You know how girls are. Mind if I use your phone?

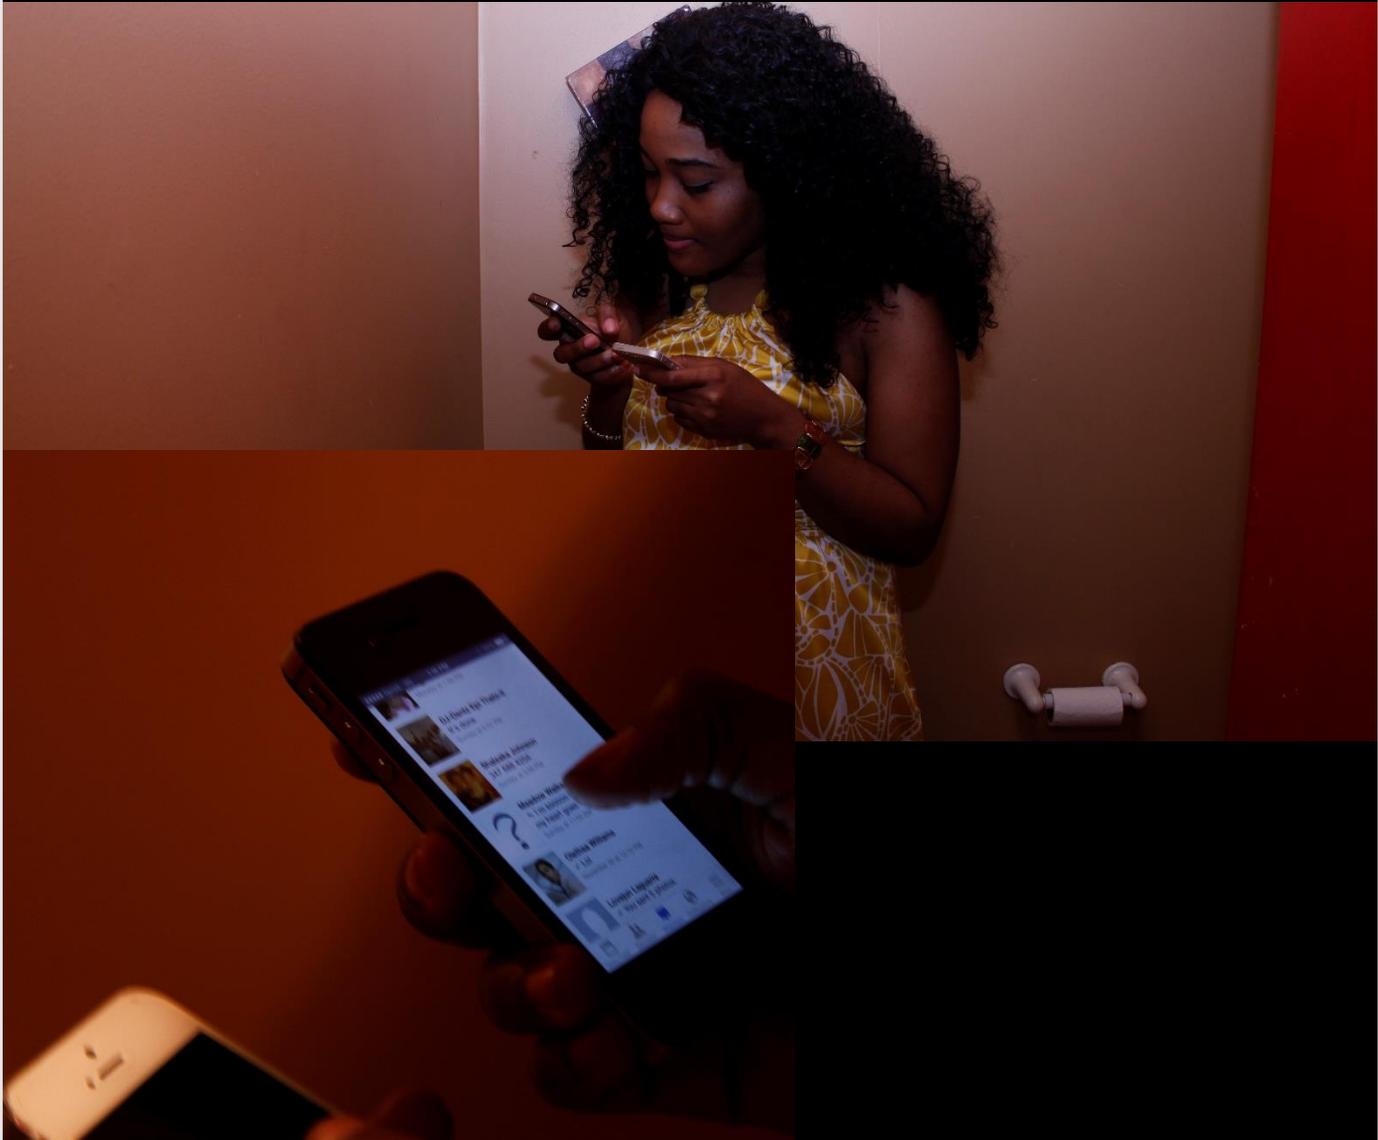

No problem. Please, go ahead

- 2 Minutes later -

Audré is checking the text and social media accounts of her date.

Man! What kind of circus is this?! A girl pregnant, kicking it with four others and yet he's trying to make me number 5? Boy! You must be crazy!

Disappointed with her recent findings, she returns back to her date with a poker face.

Everything went well?

I'm all set. Thank you!

I would usually wait until we know each other better but there is something very special I would like to share with you.

Sure go ahead. I'm eager to hear it!

I am a virgin.

Impossible!
Serious?
How?
Why?
Huh?!

I'm serious. I made a commitment to God a long time ago that I would wait.

For how long?

Until marriage of course !!!

Aww man! My dress!

Sorry. I was just not expecting... I mean, let me use the restroom and bring you some tissue. I'll be right back.

Terrible! Just terrible!

- 5 minutes later as André waits -

Virgin till marriage?

I'M OUT!! PEACE!!!

Man! You're not going to believe this!

Almost got stuck with a hot chick with a super duper V-card.

My man, tell me you split!

You know I did bro! Running out as we speak! You know it!

*- The next day, Somewhere in the city,
Julia is meeting her employer -*

Hi Boss lady!

Good job on your last assignment. I must say... I didn't think you'd be able to break up your roommate and her fiancé. That's talent right there!

The money was good and Audré will live. I did her a favor.

This guy paid so much money for this. What are his plans for Audré? What is his name anyways?

His name is Alix. I don't know his plans , I don't care!

I hear you. Money trumps love any day !

What is Audré doing now?

I sent her on a bunch of dead-end dates. She is going nowhere soon! Anyways, this case is closed for me. My job is done.

Cool. Now I have a new assignment for you.

Is the pay as good as this last one?

This one is not for a client, it is for me. The pay is better.

- 15 minutes later, after Julia gets filled in on the job-

You know I always deliver. When I am done, I hope you understand that it was business!

Understood. That's why I came to you. 37

- Meanwhile, Audré is on a date with an online suitor -

Audré, this has been our third date. I would like to invite you back to my place after dinner.

Sure, I'd love to see your place.

But I hope you remember that I'm saving myself for marriage. I don't want you to think I'm misleading you.

Of course not, no sex until marriage doesn't bother me.

Here are your drinks. Are you ready to order?

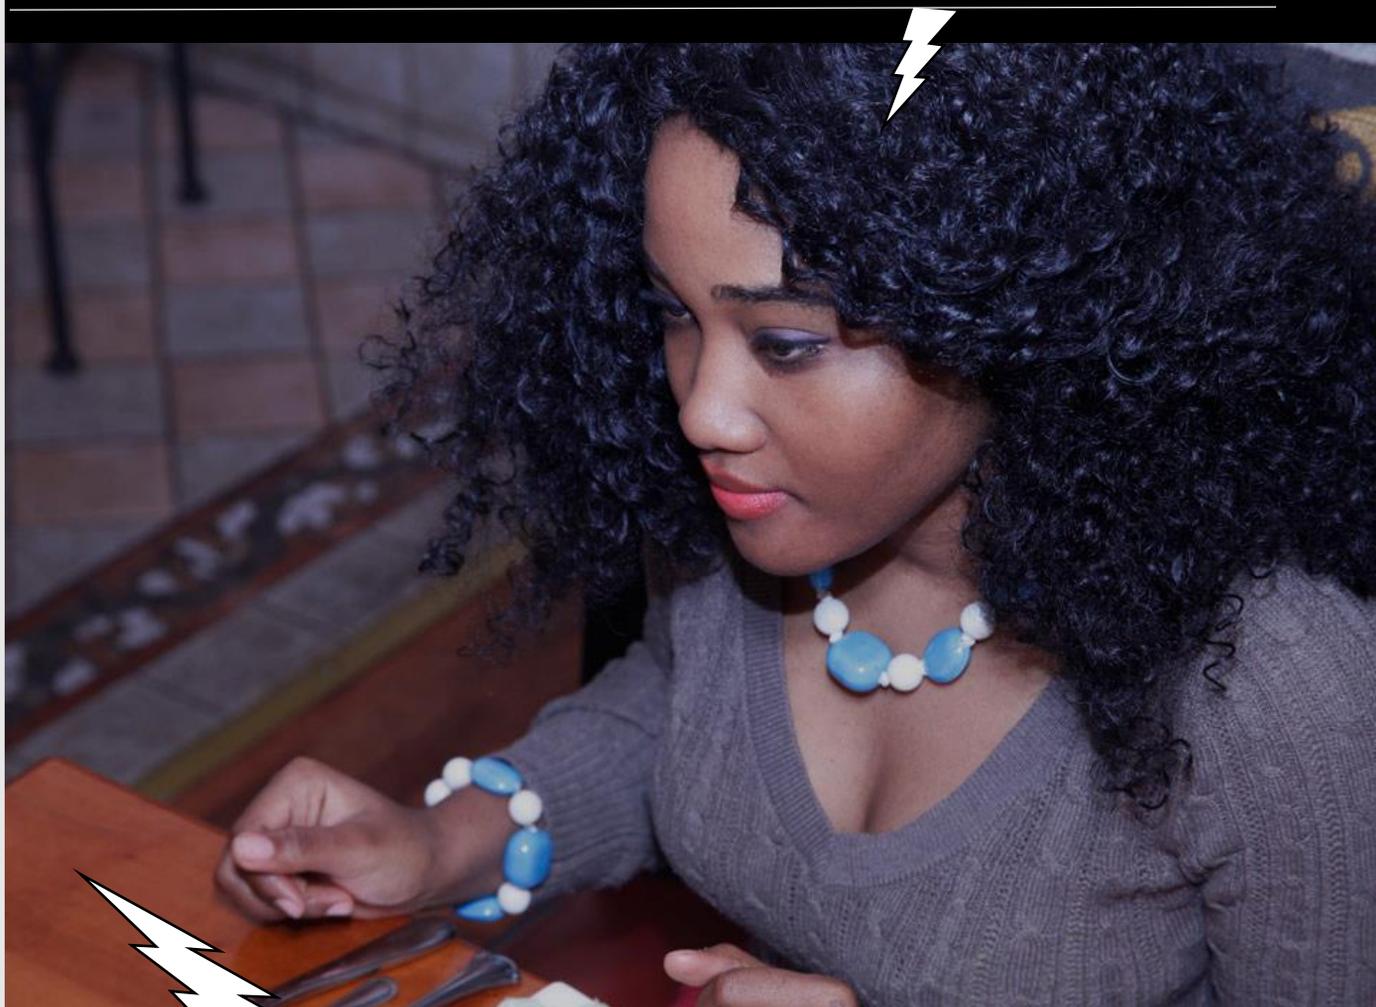

Bro! Are you checking out my girl?

No disrespect. I was just smiling. I'll go ahead and put in those orders.

Wow, I can't believe what I am hearing?

I enjoy your company but honestly, I am worried about your jealousy. It should be like salt in food. You need balance. Too much of it ruins the meal.

I am sorry Auré. I had a bad day. That's why I snapped. I am usually easy-going.

Let's forget that and say grace before eating.

Ok. You lead the way. I'm a bit rusty!

My phone is acting up, can I use your phone to place a call?

- As they enjoy their meal -

Sure. But didn't you just buy a new phone a couple of days ago?

Just bad luck!
I'll get it checked out tomorrow.

- André investigates the texting, call history and social media accounts on her date's phone -

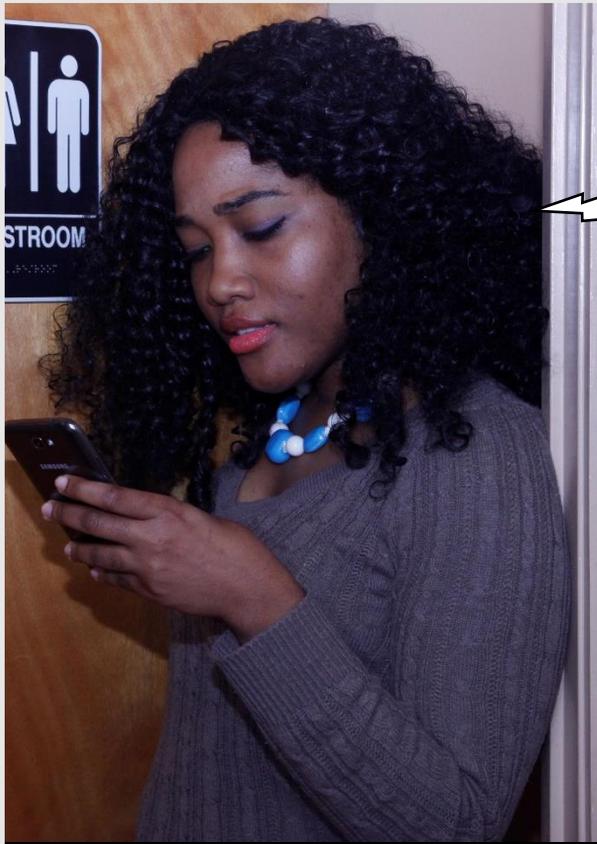

Sweet! That's a sign. Time to make things happen.

Baby girl thinks she's going to find something on that phone. Haha! Little does she know! I'd be dumb to leave evidence on my phone.

"No sex before marriage". Please!
We'll see about that.

Impressive, nothing incriminating. I may have found a decent one.

Here you go. Thanks for letting me use it . I'm all set.

So what are you planning to show me back at your place tonight?

I have a nice art collection. I think you'll like it. Drink up, baby !

I think this is going to be a night you'll never forget. We'll go to my place in 30 minutes.

Awesome!
